Writing Curriculum Statement

Writing

Our core purpose is for children to develop a love for writing and become independent, fluent writers who cultivate personal style throughout their time in school. Through the design of our curriculum, underpinned by the principles of 'Talk for Writing' and Babcock Texts that Teach, we aim to create a writing culture where children: see themselves as writers; become inspired by high quality texts and authors; apply rich and varied vocabular discerningly; edit with skill, accuracy and purpose; develop stamina and resilience; are ready for their next stage in learning. With clarity of purpose and audience, we structure the teaching of writing progressively and sequentially in order that pupils see and reflect on their progress from elicitation to final piece. We celebrate writing!

A writer at our school will:

- Take pride in their writing and presentation
- Reflect on the use of language to write with purpose and effect
- Consider author voice and intent through shared, quality texts
- Articulate and talk their writing confidently
- Select vocabulary deliberately
- Adjust writing appropriately to a range of genres and across the curriculum
- Apply spelling, punctuation and grammar conventions accurately and independently
- Respond effectively to feedback, co-construct and take ownership of writing targets
- Take risks to write creatively

Vocabulary

Children's command of vocabulary is fundamental to learning and progress across the curriculum. Vocabulary is developed actively, building systematically on pupil's current knowledge and deepening their understanding of etymology and morphology (word origins and structures) to increase their store of words. Simultaneously, pupils make links between known and new vocabulary, and discuss and apply shades of meaning. In this way, children expand the vocabulary choices that are available to them. It is essential to introduce technical vocabulary which define each curriculum subject. Vocabulary development is underpinned by an oracy culture and a tiered approach. High value is placed on the conscious, purposeful selection of well-chosen vocabulary and appropriate sentence structure to enrich access to learning and feed into written work across the curriculum.

English sequences

English teaching is underpinned by the principles of Talk for Writing. Texts are selected primarily to address focused learning needs, including SPaG but should be engaging and 'hook' pupils into learning. Purpose for writing is an essential feature. Pupils start and end each sequence with an independent writing task to generate targets.

Vocabulary

We use Beck's tiered approach as a strategy to learn and explore new, more ambitious vocabulary. It helps to define, understand and contextualise new vocabulary in order to then apply it to their writing. Key vocabulary is identified in teacher's planning.

Target setting

Targets are set in a number of ways. Cohort-based targets identify focused teaching and learning within the next sequence of English. Personal targets identify specific gaps in learning – the 'thing' that will move their learning on next. They are approached in a fluid way and updated regularly through teacher/pupil collaboration and conferencing.

Progression in editing

We take a meticulous approach to editing, ensuring that we teach specific editing skills visibly and progressively, alongside SPaG and vocabulary expectations. Pupils develop independence in editing in an age (or stage) appropriate way.

Guided Writing (GW)

Guided writing is the time where the teacher really gets to unpick and move children's learning on. Children will work in a focused way on specific learning outcomes or targets. GW may be undertaken as a whole class, in small groups or at times individually based on need and context. GW may also be used to address year-group specific learning within our mixed classes.

Writing across the curriculum

Writing is not restricted to English lessons or writing books. You should expect to see good quality writing across all curriculum subjects where standards and expectations of writing are the same as in English lessons. Evidence can then be gathered from a wide range of sources.

Shared writing (SW)

Teachers and children collaborate to unpick the text used in the teaching sequence. They may look at specific features, such as: author intent, vocabulary choices, grammatical devices, shades of meaning, composition, effect and impact of writing on the reader. They rehearse 'writing as a reader' so that they can 'read as a writer'.

Feedback and marking

Feedback is given verbally and in written form, based on visible learning. It is timely and designed to move learning on at speed. All feedback is designed to support and underpin independent learning. Conferencing is used as a tool to support individual pupil progress.

SPaG Spelling, punctuation and grammar is taught with the support of Ninja Vocabulary and Spelling Frame. This supports a progressive approach particularly within our mixed-age classes. Application of phonics is a key feature of early spelling.	Purpose for writing Writing with purpose is an essential part of teaching and learning. Giving pupils an authentic audience and clear purpose, such as to express, persuade or entertain, helps to develop motivation and skill.	Interventions Intervention is used when pupils are identified through assessment as needing additional support. Specific interventions may include Nessy, Speechlink or Funfit and progress towards achieving individual, SMART targets is monitored and evaluated. Conferencing is used as a tool to support individual pupil progress.	Handwriting Handwriting is taught progressively to support the development of a joined, neat handwriting style. This is introduced from EYFS. Handwriting is taught alongside spellings to aid retention through muscle memory.
Assessment - in order to assess impact
Children talk positively about writing; editing and improving confidently to achieve quality outcomes.	By investigating high quality, engaging texts, children understand what it means to be a writer and how to appeal to the right audience. They apply their ever growing vocabulary, grammatical patterns and ideas in their writing.	Writing is taught progressively and covers National Curriculum objectives. English NC appendices and our 'writing progression' document support a structured approach to ensure that learning makes sense to pupils and builds on their skills.	Attainment is measured using the statutory tests in Year 2 and Year 6. Each year, children are expected to have made good progress and meet ARE. Some will achieve greater depth and those not meeting ARE will receive specific intervention.
